While past patrons have enjoyed celebratory dinners with impeccable service and beautifully presented dishes, others express disappointment with inconsistent food quality, particularly with certain seafood and the removal of popular items from the menu. The atmosphere is intimate and the staff generally attentive, making it a decent choice for business dinners or special occasions. However, some found the limited menu and average steaks lacking, raising questions about its suitability for romantic outings. Overall, it's a dining experience that may depend on individual preferences.
